I Am What I Have to Share . . .

"A school is for learning." Indeed it is. Learning so many things, answering so many questions. Not questions on tests, or on your feet in class—but real questions, deep questions. Who am I? Where am I? Why am I here? Where do I go from here? It's the "I" that is common to all of them though, so I must be important. It's like being the center of your own private universe. It's hard to figure it out sometimes. You think, you reason, you wonder, you ask questions. You ask them of yourself though, and you try hard to come up with the answers.

Somehow you know that even though "I" is the important word, it's always "I" in relation to something else. "No man is an island," you hear someone say, and it makes sense. You sense your aloneness, but you know that you can't remain alone forever. There are people all around you—and you wonder if they're thinking as you are.

Many people help you find the answers. It's good to be able to have someone to talk to; someone to check with. You come to some conclusions—but you're not at all certain. You realize that people want to help you, but sometimes you're afraid. You begin to suspect though, that other people are as important as you are—that many "mes" make "we"—and we're all in this together.

You listen a lot. It seems some times that your whole life is listening. But as you listen, as you think things out, you come to new conclusions, and you grow. You feel bigger today than you did yesterday because something is clearer. "I understand," you say, and take a giant step.

Dave
The great campango that lost, my vote, but not my friendship Sue Tomcok

You sense the value of what you are doing in terms of a larger world. You understand that even though your contribution seems small, it's part of a larger whole that couldn't accomplish its purpose without you. You see how individual efforts, be they ever so difficult or boring, are all a sharing of what is uniquely yours.

ST FRANCIS de SALES

You know the great joy of working with someone else. You know what it means to share. You learn how others can benefit from what you have to give and how you can benefit from what they have to offer. What you give becomes so much more important than what you take. You are what you have to share.

Sharing means giving, not your time and your talents only, but more than all, yourself. You begin to discover what it means to make people smile; to make someone happy. You realize that you have a lot to give, and that giving makes you happy too. Sharing with others makes you bigger, not smaller. You find, to your amazement, that what you have is never diminished when you share it with someone else.

Best Dave *
 UNCLE *
 DAVEY You're still important in school & the Jr. class & the so just keep up your spirit
 in S.F.D.S.
 Keep workin'
 for what
 S.F.D.S. should be able to help,
 we're workin'
 with ya!
 Good luck
 & Love, Cathy *

As you grow, the world grows too, or so it seems. Everyday is wonderful; every moment is precious. When people share common dreams and common goals, every small victory is cause for celebration. A job well done is a victory of spirit over unselfishness; proof positive of what many people sharing can bring to pass.

Sorry that you didn't make it a PRESIDENT DAVE,
But we tried.
Good luck
NEXT YEAR,

Larry

P.S.

TAKE CARE of the leg

Like all good things though, it comes to an end. An end here that is, because lessons are for life. Learning to share, learning to give myself, learning that others are worthy of the best I have to give—it could be the beginning of a new world, far better than the one we know, far better perhaps than any we have ever dreamed of! I am what I have to share.

FOOTBALL

The loss of the first game of the season must have been a good omen for the varsity football Pioneers, since they went on to win their next two games by wide margins. The fact that those two games were against our ancient rivals, Washington and Little Flower, did much to lift our spirits and produce a winning season. To add to the general good feeling, we won our Homecoming Game against Kennedy as well. The final season tally found the Pioneers with a 6 and 3 record and the tri-championship of the Chicago Prep League. All in all it was a very good season.

BASKETBALL

If ever a basketball season started slowly, it was the season of 1970-1971. It was the sixth game of the season before we entered the winning column. We had confidence though. We knew we had the coaches, the players and the spirit to see us to a winning season. When the Pioneers started rolling it was a thrilling season all the way. A 13 and 11 record made it a winning season indeed!

BASEBALL

This year's baseball, as far as Mitre is concerned, is always future. The book goes to press before the season opens, and while we can print a picture of the team, we can give no record of performance. One thing though, is certain. Pioneer baseball teams have a tradition of winning. Last year's record of 28 and 10, is proof of that, and promise too for the days ahead.

First Row: Mr. Lodl, coach, D. Varner, B. Battista, P. Pignatiello, E. Heineman, G. Krieger. Second Row: M. Zeman, M. Clifford, P. Herald, P. Porento, J. Hooker, E. Krzesinski, M. Majeski. Third Row: J. Orel, J. Chiappetta, P. Waninski, T. Plesha, M. Wallman, P. Ritchie.

TRACK

Last season's Trackmen tried their best to overcome the crushing odds against them, above all others, the lack of members. Track at Francis seemed to be moving backward into oblivion. Inheriting the previous season's legacy of only one win, reduced morale to so low a point that the team was finally disbanded. This year, Francis' Trackmen will try again.

CROSS COUNTRY

It took only three years for the Cross Country team to come up with its first winning season, and 1970 was the year! Under the guidance of a new coach, Mr. Ron Sieman, the Pioneer harriers marked up a 10-8 record. Without a doubt, the highlight of the season was the magnificent performance of Senior Tom Crowley. Next year, the Pioneer Cross Country men will be competing in the Suburban Catholic League. This year's winning season gives us something to really look forward to.

Mitre 1971 was begun on the twenty-sixth of August, 1970, and completed on the fourth of March, 1971. For its successful completion we are grateful, indeed, to Mr. Jack Bourke of Wm J Keller Inc, to the personnel of Walinger Studios, to Mr. James Marchael, to Gamma Photo Labs, to Mr. John Sarfield, to Sister Evelyn Meditz, and to many, many others who had only to know our needs to offer their help.

Dear Dave,
 I know you'll be successful in anything you do. You've got what it takes. Good luck
 Love,
 Rhonda.

Dear Dave,
 It's really been a great

 (chemistry) I wish you
 the best of luck in the future, because you
 surely deserve it,

Dear Dave,
 Smile! Well, you're a bit crazy, and then you're a bit wis e, which I would say, makes for one agreeable combination. Stay crazy always, no one can be too serious. I'll remember always our "chats" in the old S.C. office.
 Love & Peace Always!

Dear Dave,
 Hope you're doing the summer. Good luck.
 See you next year. You would have made a great S.C. President.
 Carlos Mulowski

Dear Dave
 Next time you break your leg let your secret service know.
 Good luck!

Jerry

Dear Dave,

 Accident. Hope you

Dear Dave;
 You've been a real Pal. It was nice knowing you. Stay as friendly as you are now, and don't land in the hospital again. At least not when I'm not there, OK?
